UNDERGRADUATE SUMMER RESEARCH TRAVEL GRANTS TO KOREA

(Research)

Online applications are due on CARAT February 7, 2022. Korea Institute Undergraduate Summer Travel Grants are awarded to Harvard undergraduates in the humanities or social sciences to use in Korea for research and/or fieldwork relating to a senior honors thesis in an area of Korean studies or Korea. Ordinarily, the award covers the cost of travel and research related expenses for the research project. Typically, undergraduate applicants must have at least two years of Korean language training or equivalent proficiency in the language. In the case of exceptionally strong projects, more limited language background may be considered. More details on the KI website.

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANTSHIPS

(Research)

Applications are due February 28, 2022. Details on the KI website on how to apply. The Korea Institute will offer Undergraduate Research Assistantships for Korea focused projects supervised by Harvard faculty for summer 2022. RAships will be remote or hybrid. There will be a range of opportunities for Harvard undergraduates to work on faculty research projects in a variety of capacities. Work is arranged and directed by faculty members, who will directly supervise student RAs. The student and faculty member will discuss and clarify in advance the research responsibilities and outcomes. Students may assist with data collection, data analysis, literature reviews, or other aspects of a faculty project. If awarded a KI Research Assistantship, the students are paid $20/hour (up to $2,000 total summer stipend per Assistantship) over 5-10 weeks, based on the needs of the faculty project. Listings of 2022 faculty projects will begin to be listed on the KI website beginning in January 2022.
